

POOKIE'S NEW HOME

Pookie was just a baby. He was six weeks old, and he weighed three pounds. Even though he was a baby, it was time for him to leave his mother and go to a new home. A nice lady drove up in a blue truck. She picked up Pookie and held him close. His little heart beat so fast! She kissed him, and he licked her face. The nice lady said she would take Pookie home with her. Pookie had a new mom! He got in the truck and they drove away. Pookie had never ridden in a car or a truck before, and it scared him. The nice lady kept talking and patting Pookie. He finally relaxed, and stretched out to rest.

Soon the truck stopped. Pookie looked around when the truck door opened. The nice lady said, "I am going to call you Pookie. Pookie, these are your new brothers, Buck and Buster. These are your new sisters, Daisy and Mutley." Pookie looked at his new brothers and sisters. They looked nice, and he was eager to play with them. He spent the whole day chasing his new brothers and sisters. They all ran, and they all barked. Then it was time to eat. Pookie and his new family went in the house and had a nice meal. Pookie decided he liked his new home. Soon, he fell fast asleep.
